To my friends here: I am absolutely inconsolable. I cannot tell you what has happened, but please send your prayers. I am considering leaving the movement. xoBeth

Brian Carter What's going on Elizabeth Ely? You know prayer is a waste of time and don't sell yourself short. You're stronger than that.

Elizabeth Ely I have a lot of things to consider. I want never again to be even close to the reckless, careless ending of a young life. Ever. This is against my values and the very reasons I got involved in this. . . . I am determined not to shed A SINGLE TEAR for what you are about to hear is happening in the next few months. I will be just as cold and heartless as the e-mails and posts will tell you I am. And I will not discuss it.

Elizabeth Ely Most of all, I want to make VERY CLEAR that I am not involved in these doings. I have refused to be involved in it, and I will continue to refuse. Without guilt.

Bobby W. Russell I hope that I am not a cause of any problems you are enduring because what I have learned from you has only helped me move on the next step of my life's journey. To me, your a very important individual whom I admire greatly.

Yvonne Bender Ms Ely you cant do this. You have to tell us what EXACTLY is happening. It serves as a warning.

Jildou Slofstra Elizabeth, wouldn't it be better to shine a little light on the trouble? Ofcourse you have your right to make any decisions you wish, but this feels like a Grey area nobody has a clue about?

Bobby W. Russell You do great right here in helping others understand. I have never heard you insist anything but only try and educate people like me. A man can walk a horse to the trough but the man cannot force the horse to drank from it. The horse makes that decision. In this thought, you can give me the tools for understanding but you cannot make me learn, that decision is left up to me but I chose to listen to your thoughts and views and am proud I have done so. You've made a huge difference in my life forever.

Elizabeth Ely I will not be the person to break the news. I will only tell you how I feel, and ask for your prayers, for me. For me, Goddammit. Just pray for me. I've given what I can. . . . Just remember: The ONLY lesson I wish to teach here is to move into the light, from the darkness. Do not fight the darkness, teach the light.

Elizabeth Ely Once I stop wrestling with all this mess, I will have time to write my book and truly bring light to the world. I regret that some have chosen to descend to Hades to fight the devil. They won't win.

Bobby W. Russell That's is the purpose of my lawsuit, It is to educate people for what I have understood. The understanding I've obtained needs to be, I feel, shared with every individual in the world and this lawsuit will do just that. It will expose the truths and allow everyone to make a better informed decision for their life. You had a piece of the puzzle I had to find before I could see the finished piece known as "Betrayal" and I want to share the finished product for others to see. Thank you for your giving of the piece of puzzle I sought.

Bobby W. Russell True but I think some will. If one other survives the attack, then the fight was well worth it. Those that are not enduring, courageous, and strong will suffer their fate. I believe this is the purpose for my lawsuit To educate others of a greater understanding. Time will tell but I remain with hopes, if not, I did my job just as you do yours.

Elizabeth Ely People should be forewarned about being heroes. You were already damaged, and you stepped up when given an opportunity to fight back. Many never get that opportunity, or they start fights before they are truly provoked. Those parties will be in touch, trust me.

Elizabeth Ely All these people already know everything that we think is private. When they DON'T talk about these things on their blog, it's probably because they're paid to cause trouble -- and to keep quiet when it is in the interest of their funding parties.
