John Strangis This would of never happened if Ely avoided posting what she did about my family. In my video I didn't even mention her name and she was not the only one who questioned the decision I made for my child. I guess her ego was bruised and she took it personally. Not my problem, she caused this.

John Strangis BTW...Jessica is coming home tomorrow and my son is very healthy. I did not see him on azt and they will remove the pic line in 7 days or less. The Dr told me the pic line would be in for a month since they had to give him azt for 4 weeks. I don't know what's going on apart that everything is going great.

John Strangis I see Elizabeth as a friend. She did not have to go off as she did, but what has been done is done. I have no enemies, I treat with respect anyone who shows me the same respect

David Crowe Thanks John. We all have our struggles.

John Strangis Thank you David, yes we do. I did not want to create conflict, I just chose what I thought was the best decision for us at the time.

John Strangis Thanks but luck has nothing to do with it. You create your own reality and if things happen they happen for a reason. Want something to work your way? Create it!

Richard Jannaccio I just finished watching your video, John. Although I disagree with your decision (and by the way I disagree with my own decisions sometimes), I do agree that you and your fiancée are adults, better informed than most, and this was your decision to make. So, for that reason, i personally accept it and urge others to do the same. When the dust settles, there may be a lesson or two for all of us, but for now ... Peace, bro.

John Strangis Thanks and I understand that you disagree. People should make the best decision for themselves, not necessarily the one I made.

Richard Jannaccio Exactly. My personal views are influenced by having spent considerable effort 15 years ago fighting against what was called "the Baby AIDS bill" in New York State and in Congress. However, you had to make a decision faced with probabilities for different scenarios and how things are likely to play out in the state of California, and in those areas, my knowledge is deficient. Even if it weren't, like I said, the only two qualified decision makers here are you, John Strangis, and your fiance. Thanks for sharing your experience. I wish the best for all three family members.

Marlene Ivette I want to remain as neutral as possible...I too may not agree with how things were handled, I do understand you had no options. But one this is for sure, THERE IS NO MIDDLE GROUND. There is ONLY THEIR WAY. You do as they say, or they take your child. You are at their mercy. They may decide to let your child stop taking poison if THEY feel like it, or they may not.

But there is no common ground...there is only you agreeing to let them drug your child and you agree to let them decide when to stop, if ever. You, Jessica and baby Dominic weren't given options. This middle ground you speak of is an illusion.

There is only manipulation and force on their part and you, Jess and baby Dominic had to do what was best for you. That said, Beth has done a TON for this movement and she deserves our respect. I don't agree with everything she had done either, but I can't imagine being a part of this movement for over 20 years and enduring what she has....I hope that you and Beth can forgive each other and stay on the same side. I hope with all my heart your baby is let off the hook and remains healthy. I hope you and Jess are left alone. My heart aches for everyone involved.

John Strangis Beth is a friend but I lose respect for those who go off on my with shit like she did. I did not mention her name on her video even though she was one of those who gave me crap about agreeing with the drs. She took it personally. It didn't have to go this way.

Marlene Ivette I understand how you feel as well...she did take it personally...not everyone is good at detaching from it...it's not easy for anyone but what you and Jess and the baby have been through was also hell. My heart goes out to all of you.

John Strangis I talked to my mom too. We have a house in Italy, if shit hits the fan (which I doubt) we can go to italy. My son is now an Italian citizen.

Marlene Ivette shhhh....don't put your plans out there...believe it or not, some pretending to be cool do not want to allow you the freedom to do what you can to save your child and will rat you out in a heart beat. Discretion is crucial and this group is not private.

Richard Jannaccio Sorry, but Elizabeth is like someone who occupies a tree house for years, fertilizes the soil and removes the destructive beetles, and then chops down the tree and leaves. I cannot and will not soft peddle what happened here. It was very, very destructive.

John Strangis In the worst case scenario Jess and I could both renounce our American citizenship and go to Italy. She gains citizenship with her marrying me. They better not put me against the wall. I don't want to fight but if I have to I will unsheathe my gladius and fight till death.
